

ORER releases an update to the non binding 2012 and 2013 STP estimate - December 2011

For the second successive year, Green Energy Markets was one of three consultants engaged by the ORER to provide forward estimates of the number of small-scale technology certificates (STCs) likely to be created in the 2011, 2012 and 2013 calendar years. The results of the modelling assist the Minister in determining the Small-scale Technology Percentage (STP). Click here for further details.
